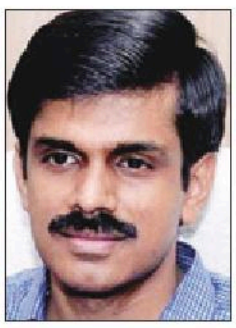
Kurubarahalli Sy. No. 4 and Alanahalli Sy. No. 41

CMO directs MUDA

to delete 'B-Kharab' status of Layouts developed by it

H.D. Kumaraswamy
Who kept his Word



Abhiram G. Sankar
Ball is in his Court

P.S. Kantharaj
Will he be Pro-active?

Mysuru, Sept. 25 (OSR)- Here is some good news for the property owners and residents of CITB and MUDA Layouts coming under Kurubarahalli Survey No. 4 and Alanahalli Survey No. 41, who have been relentlessly fighting to get the land out of 'B-Kharab' (Government land) classification, as the State Government is said to have come up with a solution to end the nearly five-year row.

The Chief Minister's Office (CMO), vide its letter No. CM/52430/REP-4EM/2018 dated Sept. 17, 2018, has directed the MUDA Commissioner to take further action in respect of the previous Siddharamaiah Government's Cabinet decision on leaving out Siddarthanagar under Kurubarahalli Sy. No. 4 and Alanahalli, K.C. Nagar, J.C. Nagar and Income Tax Layouts coming under Alanahalli Sy. No. 41, from 'B-Kharab' classification.

The CM's Deputy Secretary Arun Furtado has informed about the CMO's letter to Kurubarahalli Sy. No. 4 and Alanahalli Sy. No. 41 Residents Welfare Association President B.P. Manjunath, who is also a National Council Member of the BJP and former KEA Chairman.

Referring to CMO's letter, MUDA Commissioner P.S. Kantharaj said that as the issue is wholly connected to Revenue Department, the letter has been forwarded to the Deputy Commissioner (DC), who is also the MUDA Chairman, for further action.

(See CMO on page 9)

THE CHIEF MINISTER WHO KEPT HIS WORD: File photo of Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy speaking to the residents of Siddarthanagar, K.C. Nagar, J.C. Nagar and Alanahalli at Suttur Mutt premises in city on Aug. 11, 2018 when he promised to give them relief within a short time after receiving their memorandum.

Editor's Note

It is not known if the said letter has reached the DC's Office which is a mere stone's throw away from MUDA Office or if the DC is expecting an exclusive letter addressed to him directly from the CM's Office or from the Revenue Department. If it is so, the hapless residents of these Layouts are in for further delay.

Assn. President Manjunath reacts

B.P. Manjunath

Meanwhile, the President of Kurubarahalli Sy. No. 4 and Alanahalli Sy. No. 41 Residents Welfare Association B.P. Manjunath, speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, said that Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy had responded positively when they had submitted a memorandum to him at Suttur Mutt here, on Aug.11, 2018. "I will check with MUDA and MCC whether the authorities have received the communication from the CM's Office and learn about the status of the letter, following which we will make our next move. The DC should not find any excuse to further delay the decision in this regard," said Manjunath.

Atheists, Agnostics, the Rest

Mysureans get to read in the columns of this daily, on some occasions, views of some individuals berating, what they understand as false beliefs of different sections of society, without any noticeable reaction from the latter. In other words, Mysuru hosts a fraternity of atheists whose avowed principle is the rejection of belief that any deities exist. Atheism is not an affirmative belief that there is no God nor does it answer any other question about what a person believes. In essence, atheism, in some circles of intellectuals, is itself perceived as a belief system. Agnostics, the other kind of intellectuals, often rating themselves as rationalists, too join the bandwagon of individuals making the believers as their target of attack and often, ridicule. Agnosticism is the view that the existence of God, of the divine, or the supernatural is unknown or unknowable. The outlook of agnostics seems to be less hurting to believers, given the argument that the existence of a greater power can neither be proved nor disproved.

While atheists and agnostics insist on proof for existence of God or divinity drawing from the methods of Science, those who adhere to theism assert that the existence of God is a definite possibility, but it is not within the realm of human knowledge. If only animals were endowed with the faculty of speech, probably they would have brokered peace between the two warring parties.

The bone of contention that sets the atheists and the devout of divine beings apart is that Science doesn't support the view that God exists as a super power. The English biologist Thomas Henry Huxley (1825-1895), credited with coining the term agnostic in 1869 is quoted as saying, "it simply means that a man shall not say he knows or believes that which he has no scientific grounds for professing to know or believe. Insisting on reason and Science to justify the belief that God exists, being the hot-spot in the view of agnostics, seems to be more offensive to the believers. A well-known Kannada writer, having lived a great deal of his 100-plus years of life in denial of the creator, seems to have clinched the hot debate on the existence or otherwise of God by saying : To argue that God doesn't exist is no way more acceptable to argue that God exists.

All points raised by believers and non-believers, if the two sides agree to disagree and adhere to the principle of live 'n' let live, without treading on each other's toes, there shall be peace in society. In sum, it takes years of experience to either believe or not believe, while both can be shot down in a moment. Any tool, such as Science, is better used to dissect and not hurt. Believing is personal and its consequences shall also be personal.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

I don't view pride as a laudable emotion although when it's a response to creditable achievements it is, at least, understandable. But when it's not, it appears arrogant and ungracious, it can prove to be self-defeating and, often, leave you looking ridiculous. Sadly, all three is the case with India's refusal to accept international aid in response to Kerala's devastating floods. Now I know this is a policy that stretches back to the Manmohan Singh government's response to the 2004 tsunami. It was also implemented during the Uttarakhand calamity of 2013. So it's been India's practice for the last decade and a half. But what's happened over Kerala best illustrates why this is a deeply mistaken response.

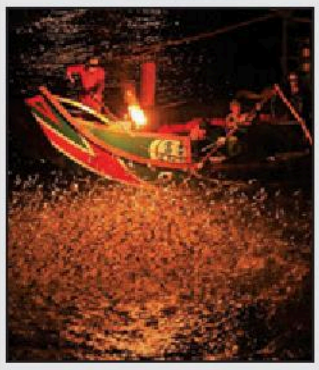
'Patriotic' Chinese smash their iPhones

Beijing: In a bizarre display of patriotism, Chinese people are smashing their iPhones besides boycotting American brands like KFC in support of their country after the International Court in Hague ruled that China has no historical claims to the South China Sea and was breaching the sovereignty of the Philippines by exploring resources.

Soon after the landmark decision was reported, photos and videos of smashed up iPhones started showing up on Chinese social media. The US is seen as a strong ally of the Philippines and since the Apple iPhone is apparently considered the ultimate American product, it became a prime target for people.

A few years ago, during a similar territorial dispute with Japan over the Diaoyu Islands, people took to the streets to destroy Japanese cars.

Fishing with Fire: A tradition of Taiwan



Taiwan: Fishermen in Taiwan have been catching sardines with the help of fiery stick held over the edge of a boat since hundreds of years and the fish are so attracted to the light that they jump out of the water and into the nets of the fishermen.

Fishing boats head out to sea during the night and light from the bamboo stick covered with sulfuric soil at one end creates a bright flame. The sulfur dissolves in the water and the gas produced then flashes with fire making sardines jump out of the water into fishermen's nets. Sulfuric fire fishing was developed during the period of Japanese Rule and is now practiced only in the Jinshan sulfur harbor.

But sardine season only lasts three months from May to July and despite government efforts to keep the tradition alive and promote it as a tourist attraction, young people don't seem very impressed. With no new blood in sight, the future of this tradition doesn't look very bright.

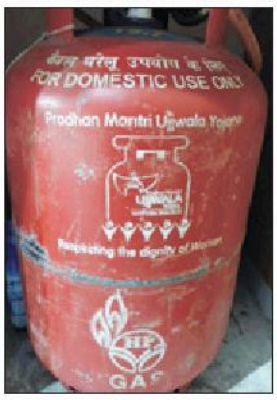
'Respecting the dignity of women'

Sir,

It was heartening to come across the slogan 'Respecting the dignity of women' painted on the HP domestic gas cylinder mentioning above it Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana. It is, indeed, a very thoughtful advertising creative idea of HP Gas company giving due respect to dignity of women, linking how this PM Scheme has helped those underprivileged also to get benefit from the drudgery of smokeless cooking. HP to be congratulated for the initiative.



In fact, the above has just not remained as a slogan but it has been made a reality showing respect to the dignity of women, making her to lead a quality life, showing the government and society have real concern towards her. And this in essence is the real meaning of the above terms.

Rehabilitation of flood victims in Kodagu

Three model houses being built on pilot basis

Madikeri, Sept.25 (US)- The State Government and District Administration have come forward to construct houses to rehabilitate the flood victims of Kodagu. About 110 acres of land has been identified at various places in the district and work on levelling the ground has begun.

Three model houses of built-in areas 307 sq.ft, 415 sq.ft and 500 sq.ft are being constructed on a pilot basis by three different private companies — Karnataka State Habitat Centre, Netaji Welfare Association and Bird Utilising International Technology — on a plot adjacent to the RTO Office on the outskirts of the town. It is said that the pilot houses can resist earth quake and fire disaster and obviously are environment-friendly.

A one bedroom house construction costs about Rs.6.6 lakh and Rs.10 lakh for a two-bedroom house and both are capable to have two floors. Even air-conditioning facility is permissible.

The houses will have concrete walls with embedded power cables and water lines. Every room will have 2 to 4 power points for utilities.

The windows are made of moulded plastic and District Administration will finalise about the doors soon.

The houses can be constructed within 10 to 30 days with quality check at every stage.

After completion of the three model houses on pilot basis, the District Administration will gather opinions of the flood victims on inspections of the houses and give a green signal for the total construction of houses depending on the choice of the flood victims, according to sources.

Self-employment for flood-hit Kodagu people

Madikeri, Sept.25 (UNI)- In order to infuse confidence among the flood-hit Kodagu people, the District Administration had organised a training camp for the victims to take up self-employment and to bring a new lease of life for their future.

Due to this natural calamity, worst hit were labourers working in the estates who have lost their jobs and gone under depression. On this occasion, the Women and Child Welfare Department had organised a training camp on making photo albums, photo frames, bags, covers, gift items and many more with paper. The workshop was organised in the girls Balamandira Relief Camp.

A trainer from Mysuru Paper Mill Limited, S. Ravishankar provided information on a variety of products that can be manufactured through paper besides people could earn more from minimum investment in this type of employment.

Stating that this type of training camps would boost their confidence, he said: "The victims of flood must learn how to make money using their creativity. Thus you can be self-employed from home and shape your life as desired by you."

Consultant with Women and Child Welfare Department K.L. Priya and others were present during the training session.

Hundreds of people mostly women took part in the training camps.

Meanwhile, Health and Family Welfare Department had organised a health check-up camp for the victims of the flood.

Discussions, sessions providing mental strength and moral support and other health-related programmes were also held.

Dr. Rajkumar kidnap case

Court acquits all nine accused for lack of evidence after 18 years

Erode (TN), Sept. 25- Eighteen years after the late Kannada matinee idol Dr. Rajkumar was kidnapped by the slain forest brigand Veerappan, the Goipichettipalayam Additional Magistrate Court in Erode district acquitted all the nine accused this morning for lack of evidence.

Additional District Judge Mani, in his judgment, stated that the prosecution did not gather enough evidence against the accused and "not even an iota of evidence was produced to show the accused were accomplices of Veerappan."

The Judge also said that Dr. Rajkumar's family did not turn up to depose in front of the Court during the trial.

The abduction took place on July 30, 2000, when Dr. Raj was with his family at a farmhouse in Dodda Gajanur village in Talavadi bordering Tamil Nadu. The actor was held captive for 108 days in the jungle before he was released on Nov. 15.

Following the actor's release, Police officials at Talavadi registered a case against Veerappan and 11 of his associates.

In addition to both Rajkumar and Veerappan, two members accused of the crime — Sethukuzhi Govindan and Rangaswamy — also passed away during the course of the trial. Of the nine remaining members, five of the accused are in jail. The charges against them range from abetment of an offence, conspiracy, unlawful assembly, criminal trespassing, abduction for ransom, and they have also been booked under Sections of the Arms Act.

The Trial Court in Erode was pulled up by the Madras High Court in 2016 for asking the actor's widow late Parvathamma to appear before the Court.

Bike-borne miscreants snatch chain at Nazarbad

Mysuru, Sept. 25 (RK&KS)- Bike-borne miscreants have snatched a chain along with gold pendants from a woman in the early hours of today at Nazarbad in city.

The woman, who lost her chain and gold pendants, is 45-year-old Papamma, a resident of Kamatageri near Marugadevi Temple in Nazarbad.

Papamma was collecting water from a tap in front of her house, when two persons on a bike stopped at a distance. While one was seated on the bike with the engine still on, the other approached her with a bottle to collect water.

When Papamma stepped aside to allow the youth to collect the water, he immediately closed her mouth, yanked off her chain, jumped on the waiting bike and sped from the spot.

It is learnt that the miscreants had yanked off the gold-plated silver chain which had the mangalya and Lakshmi pendants made of gold and weighing about 15 grams.

Duniya Vijay assault case

Decision on bail pleas tomorrow

Bengaluru, Sept. 25- The Eighth ACMM Court yesterday reserved the judgement of the bail petitions filed by actor Duniya Vijay and his three accomplices in connection with the assault and kidnapping of gym trainer Maruthi Gowda in Bengaluru on Sept. 23 night. The Court will pronounce the judgement of their bail pleas on Sept. 26.

During the hearing yesterday, the advocate for Vijay argued that the Police have invoked the penal provisions relating to non-bailable offences with a malafide intention and obtained false statements from the medical officers that the victim was assaulted with weapons. Hence, the accused be released on bail, he urged.

But the Public Prosecutor argued that the accused were not entitled for bail at this stage as one of the accused Vijay is an influential person and the victim is still recovering in a hospital. After hearing the arguments, the Judge reserved the order on the bail pleas for tomorrow.

The accused — Vijay, Prasad and Mani — were arrested based on the complaint filed by Gowda's nephew Panipuri Kitty. Kitty has accused them of kidnapping Gowda in a car and assaulting him on Sunday at Ambedkar Bhavan in Vasanth Nagar under High Grounds Police Station limits.

Vijay and other accused are in custody at Parappana Agrahara and have been allotted the Undertrial numbers. As per the menu of the jail, Vijay was served tea and puliyogare, which he consumed.

According to the complaint lodged by one Mohammed Zabiulla, the mosque was locked after Saturday night prayers and when he came to open the mosque the next morning, he saw the door open. On entering inside and inspecting, he found the CCTV monitor, DVR box and cash offered by devotees in the offering box stolen. He stated that the door of the mosque was not damaged and the miscreants may have opened the lock using duplicate key before committing the crime.

Udayagiri Police, who have registered a case in this regard, are investigating.

Tigress found dead near Harohalli

Mysuru, Sept. 25 (KS)- The carcass of a tigress aged about six years was found at Chikkanahalli Forest Range near Harohalli in the taluk last evening.

Forest officials have suspected that the tigress may have died of electrocution somewhere and miscreants may have dumped the dead tigress inside the forest. Tyre marks of a tractor was found nearby. As no pug marks were found in the vicinity, it has given rise to doubts that the death was not natural.

The exact cause for the death of the tigress would be known only after post-mortem which will be conducted today.

Indian Muslims: Differing views

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

It is the irony of ironies that (a) The Government of India banned triple talaq without getting a proper Bill properly passed in Parliament, and (b) Muslims attacked the "reform", saying that it will not help Muslim women. Who said anything about helping Muslim women? The new law is merely an election-eve move even though its vote-catching potential is doubtful.

Whether it is the Muslim Personal Law or the new-fangled register of citizens, or the convoluted vote-bank politics of the North-East, there is an all-out effort to mobilise votes on communal basis. Not even the Amit Shah camp will be in a position to say with certainty whether this tactic will work in practice. But that doesn't hold back verbal terrorists and hate merchants.

When Kamal Haasan joined those who condemned "Hindu terrorism," tons of bricks were hurled at him. Attackers argued that it was impossible for a Hindu to be a terrorist. That is true of Hinduism. Modern-day Hindutva is different, as any lynch victim would testify. All religions have a terrorist streak in them. Buddhism is a byword for non-violence, but Thai Buddhists called for the killing of communists at one stage and Myanmar Buddhists have been killing masses of Rohingyas. Christianity swears by love, but Roman Catholicism presided over the unspeakable cruelties of the Spanish Inquisition.

Perhaps, Indian Muslims attract special attention because their story is related to the religion-based partition of India. Ironically, Muslims in India are perceived to be better off, with more citizens' rights than Muslims in Pakistan, a point that adds to the disaffection between the neighbours.

A belated reading of a 2016 book brings home the fact that Indian Muslims face problems that could be partly self-imposed and partly imposed by intolerant government leaders.

Perhaps Indian Muslims attract special attention because their story is related to the religion-based partition of India.

Indian Muslims: Struggling for Equality of Citizenship presents its basic premise in the title itself. It is edited by Riaz Hassan, Director of the International Centre for Muslim and Non-Muslim Understanding at the University of South Australia, and has contributions by experts such as Amitabh Kundu (Delhi Policy Group), Rajinder Sachar (former Chief Justice of the Delhi High Court) and Rakesh Basant (IIM, Ahmedabad).

Christopher Jaffrelot, the acclaimed India specialist with several definitive studies to his credit, has provided a chapter with a blunt heading: "The Muslims of Gujarat during Narendra Modi's Chief Ministership."

His basic thesis is that Gujarati asmita (sense of identity) "is rooted in Hinduism and directed against Muslims." This was underlined by the promotion of vegetarianism. "This quasi-equation between Gujarati-ness and vegetarianism tends to exclude the Muslim minority from 'Gujaratihood'." Some Bohras, he says, register themselves as Bohras, not Muslims, in census records. He gives details to show that no significant relief has been provided to poor Muslims because they "have explicitly been victims of discrimination." Even scholarships earmarked for Muslims by the Central government were not given to them.

The BJP has built enough arguments in political terms to justify its discriminatory practices. In 2009, the party nominated two Muslims for by-elections in Junagadh. Both lost. Local BJP leaders said that committed Hindu voters might have turned against the party. In the famous UP elections last year, as in the Gujarat elections in 2012, the BJP denied tickets to Muslims. In both cases, it came out triumphant. Why then should it bother about Muslim representation? Amit Shah has even sidelined Shahnawaz Hussain, the BJP's faithful showpiece Muslim face for long.

Scholars in this book and elsewhere point to the poor educational and health standards of Muslims in India. Amitabh Kundu attributes this to "historical and socio-cultural factors." What are these socio-cultural factors? Is not the ultra-orthodoxy of Muslim leadership itself a socio-cultural factor contributing to Muslim backwardness? Does Madrasa education aim at improving the general standards of students? Has any socio-cultural programme been launched by the community for the benefit of impecunious Muslims in, say, UP or Bihar?

Such questions become relevant when we look at the contrast between Muslims of the Northern States and their brethren in the South. The latter are better integrated with, and accepted by the general population. Kerala Muslims, for example, hold leadership positions as writers, doctors, educationists, politicians and public intellectuals. Ultra-orthodox elements exist there too: There is still no trace of Chekannur Maulvi, a progressive cleric, who disappeared in 1993. But they are exceptions, numerically minuscule, and remain hidden. Overall, educational standards have been high for Muslims in the South and they are better off for that. Perhaps Islamic leaders need to look inward, too, when they complain about Muslims being neglected in India.

District Minister visits rain-hit areas in Hinkal

Instructs officials to clear clogged drains, encroachments

Mysuru, Sept.25 (MTY&SR)- State Higher Education and Mysuru District in-Charge Minister G.T. Devegowda visited rain-hit areas in various parts of Hinkal yesterday to take stock of the situation there.

Sunday overnight rains in Mysuru had left several houses in low-lying areas flooded. Rain water entered many houses in Tammadagiri in Hinkal, Shanthinagar and Udayagiri in Narasimharaja Assembly segment, Vidyaranyapura in Krishnaraja Assembly constituency in city.

Rain that began in the midnight disrupted normal life yesterday morning with water logging reported from prominent streets.

Many houses were flooded with rain water in Tammadageri near Nanneshwara Temple in Hinkal, leaving residents to spend sleepless night and forcing them to look ways to safeguard their property.

On receiving complaints from public, the Minister, accompanied with Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) Superintending Engineer Suresh Babu visited rain-affected places in Hinkal, which also comes under his Chamundeshwari Assembly segment.

The residents there complained that they were affected a lot by clogging of storm water drains and appealed him to take immediate steps to solve the problem. They demanded the Minister to find a permanent solution to put an end to all rain-related woes in their area.

Responding to the complaints, the Minister assured them, the District Administration had already taken steps to clear the encroachments of storm water drains besides removal of silt from clogged drains.

He said that he had given directions to MUDA Officials to construct the drainage on both sides of the road and take all possible steps for flow of drainage water easily.

Swachh Survekshan-2019

Shun plastic, use cloth bags, urges Pramoda Devi Wadiyar

Cleanliness and Sanitation Drive held in city

Member of the erstwhile Mysuru Royal Family Pramoda Devi Wadiyar is seen distributing cloth bags and appealing shopkeepers to shun the usage of plastic, during Cleanliness Drive held to create awareness on Swachh Survekshan-2019 at Devaraja Market in city this morning as MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha, MCC Health Officer Dr. Nagaraj and others look on.

Mysuru, Sept.25 (RK&SR)- Dozens of volunteers of a NGO, college students, Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) officials, led by member of the erstwhile Mysuru Royal family Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, took up the distribution of cloth bags appealing the public to shun the usage of plastic in city.

This was part of the cleanliness and sanitation drive held in city this morning to create awareness on Swachh Survekshan-2019, a survey conducted to rank cities on various sanitation and cleanliness parameters, organised as part of Swachh Bharat Mission.

Pramoda Devi Wadiyar went around the Clock Tower, Devaraja Markets, K.R. Circle and other commercial streets appealing the shopkeepers, traders, vegetable and fruit vendors, Pourakarmikas and the public to shun the usage of plastics besides asking them to make the city garbage-free and open defecation-free.

She urged the public to use cloth bags instead of plastic covers to build a clean city for their better future. The volunteers distributed more than 100 cloth bags to traders, shopkeepers, Pourakarmikas and others to sensitise them on the ill-effects of plastic usage. The campaign which began around 7.30 am lasted for two hours.

Speaking on the occasion, Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, who is also the brand ambassador of Swachh Bharat Mission activities of the city, called upon traders, shop owners and public to stop using plastic covers as it is causing serious health and environment hazards. People should resist from using plastic carry bags and from all kinds of plastic papers, she said.

She stressed the need to create awareness among the people on the ill-effects of non-biodegradable and non-recyclable plastic. People should develop the habit to reduce, reuse and recycle. Awareness should be created among the public to remove the garbage from their households without waiting for the garbage collectors to keep their city clean, she added.

Over 50 students of Yuvaraja's College, office-bearers of Young Indians, Humane Touch and other NGOs participated in the campaign. MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha, Health Officer Dr. Nagaraj, Corporator M.D. Nagaraj, MCC Environmental Engineers Maitri and Poornima were present.

This Dasara Royalty Sells Tourism

Yaduveer agrees to be Brand Ambassador

Mysuru, Sept.25 (PM&SR)- Tourism promotion activities of the region seems to have got a major boost with member of Mysuru Royal Family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar accepting the offer to be the Brand Ambassador to promote Dasara Tourism.

It may be recalled, the Tourism and Sericulture Minister S.R. Mahesh, on behalf of the State Government, had called on Yaduveer last Wednesday (Sept.19) at his residence in Mysore Palace and requested him to become the Brand Ambassador. The Tourism Minister had invited him on the hope of tapping immense tourism potentiality of Mandya, Mysuru, Kodagu and Chamarajanagar region.

A press release issued by the Office of Tourism Department said, Yaduveer had not only accepted the offer but also expressed his gratitude to the State Government for giving this offer and assured to extend all support and co-operation for promotion of tourism activities.

Yaduveer, who is already the Royal Ambassador of 'Swachh Bharat' campaign along with Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, had agreed to make Mysuru as one of the must-visit tourism circuits across South India. He had also given his approval to take part in the meeting to be arranged by Tourism Department in this regard.

Expressing gratitude to Yaduveer for accepting the invitation, the Tourism Minister said that he will convene the meeting of Tourism Officials as early as possible to chalk out future course of action and to develop Mysuru region as one of the important tourist hubs in South India.

APPRECIATION FOR ACCEPTANCE

Meanwhile, Yaduveer's acceptance to be 'Dasara Brand Ambassador' has drawn huge appreciation from various quarters as it would help tourism development of the region.

It may be recalled that retired Senior Vice-President of ITDC N.K.A. Ballal had openly welcomed the invitation extended by S.R. Mahesh requesting the Titular Head of Royal Family to promote Dasara tourism after becoming its Brand Ambassador. Ballal had written an article titled "Wadiyar as Dasara Brand Ambassador — Royalty sells... Our Tourism Minister takes baby steps" in SOM dated Sept.23, defending that 'Royalty indeed sells...'

He had suggested the Govt. to allow Yaduveer to take part in the historic Jumboo Savari as its Brand Ambassador. "The Government should make the Brand Ambassador to sit in his full royal regalia in a silver chariot, after the elephant carrying the Golden Howdah, as such measures would attract the tourists in large scale," Ballal opined.

Harnessing Dasara tourism potential

Tourism, a key driver of local economy, generates around 50,000 direct and indirect jobs in Mysuru

Mysuru, Sept.25 (UNI)- The famous Dasara festivities may not be termed as a "grand affair" in view of the natural calamity that hit parts of Kodagu but the authorities will leave no stone unturned to focus on tourism promotion in the run-up to the fest.

The Tourism Department got busy giving shape to its final plan to use the festival as a fulcrum to promote tourism in the region. In a bid to make the best of the 10-day event to commence from Oct.10 and lure both domestic and intl. tourists, a promotional plan is being drafted and is set to be finalised within a week.

H.P. Janardhan, Deputy Director, Department of Tourism, said, "Apart from traditional events, there will be renewed focus on youth and hence, adventure sports will be given due importance."

Mysuru is ideal for water sports and a few facilities are already in place at Varuna Lake which would be harnessed to the fullest. In addition, vintage car rally and ornamental fish show are being contemplated as added attractions during Dasara. This is expected to supplement the air show expected to make a comeback this year but things would be clear only in the days ahead. As most of the events are scheduled to be held and there is no official decision to scale down the festivities, the authorities are now going all out to harness the tourism potential.

However, stakeholders in the hospitality sector are keeping their fingers crossed as the recent floods in Kerala may cast its shadow on their fortunes during the peak tourism season.

As C. Narayanagowda, President of Hotel Owners Association, said, a sizeable number of tourists to Mysuru are from Kerala and their numbers may decline in view of the calamity.

But there are others who perceive that the domestic tourists otherwise bound for Kerala may shift their preference this year and hence expect a significant number of them to visit Mysuru. They argue that this can to some extent offset the loss owing to perceived decline of tourists from Kerala.

There are about 150 to 170 hotels catering to all categories of tourists who visit Mysuru throughout the year. Though the gross occupancy rate in the hotels tends to be around 50 percent for almost 9 months, it exceeds 85 percent during the peak tourism season commencing in the run-up to Dasara.

It is reckoned that tourism alone generates around 50,000 direct and indirect jobs in Mysuru, making the sector a key driver of the local economy.

However, DC Abhiram G. Sankar has clarified that the letter is yet to reach him.

Over three years ago, based on directions of the Court and the Government, the then DC C. Shikha, in her report to the Government in May 2015, had classified the land coming under Kurubarahalli Sy. No. 4 and Alanahalli Sy. No. 41 as 'B-Kharab' land, following which the MUDA and the MCC had stopped issuing land records such as Khata transfer, building plan approval, CR etc., of sites and other landed properties in CITB and MUDA developed Layouts of Siddarthanagar, Vidyanagar, K.C. Nagar, J.C. Nagar, Alanahalli and Income Tax Layouts coming under the two Survey Numbers. This action of the authorities had caused a lot of hardship to the residents and property owners in these Layouts as they could not do any transactions in respect of their properties.

The aggrieved residents, after forming an association under the leadership of BJP leader B.P. Manjunath, had staged numerous demonstrations and stirs, even blocking several vital roads on many occasions, to register their protest against the 'B-Kharab' classification.

The association members met the then CM Siddharamaiah a number of times on the issue, following which Siddharamaiah had directed the authorities concerned to come up with plans on resolving the row. In March this year, before the announcement of the Assembly poll schedule, a State Cabinet meeting chaired by the then CM Siddharamaiah, decided on leaving out CITB and MUDA Layouts from 'B-Kharab' land classification and also to bring this Cabinet resolution to the notice of the Court.

As the poll schedule was announced days after the Cabinet resolution, the issue was kept pending.

After the elections, with the JD(S)-Congress coalition Government taking over, the Association members led by Manjunath met Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy at Suttur Mutt in city last month and presented a memorandum, urging him to end the row. CM Kumaraswamy had assured the residents of quick action in this regard.

Now with the Chief Minister's Office (CMO) writing a letter in this regard to the District Authorities, the residents are hoping that their woes would end soon.

Lingayats fighting for constitutional recognition: Seer

Seers of various Mutts showering flower petals on the statue of Basavanna during the inauguration of the District Office of Jagatika Lingayat Mahasabha in Hosa Mutt premises here on Sunday.

Mysuru, Sept.25 (SBD&DM)- Maintaining that a separate Lingayat religion status is their right, Mudigunda Virakta Mutt Seer Srikanta Swamiji said that the Jagatika Lingayat Mahasabha was fighting to get Lingayat religion status.

He was speaking after inaugurating the District Office of Jagatika Lingayat Mahasabha at Hosa Mutt premises here on Sunday.

Dismissing allegations that the Mahasabha was dividing the community, the Seer said that there is no religious status for Veerashaivas and as such there was no question of dividing the community.

Refuting the claims of Veerashaivas that Lingayats were dividing the community, Srikantaswamiji said that Veerashaiva was among one of the seven (Sapta) shaivas.

No one knows where 'Veerashaiva' was born and also its philosophy and its holy book are not known. As such we cannot grant recognition for Veerashaivas, he said and added that they were not against the system.

Observing that Hinduism has many sects and Veerashaiva is one among them, the Seer said that the fight for getting separate religion tag for Lingayats will continue.

Claiming that Lingayat Dharma always stood for gender equality, the Seer said that Lingayat Dharma was based entirely on Basavanna's principles and ideologies.

Alleging that some politicians were opposing the Lingayat movement only to save their chairs, the Seer cautioned that the career of politicians opposing the separate Lingayat religion tag may come to an end, if they continued to oppose..

Ravandur Murugha Mutt Seer Mokshapathi Swamiji in his address, said that Lingayat religion is spread across the world.

Calling upon the community members to work with a perfect co-ordination in order to achieve separate religion goal, the Seer cautioned the community members to be wary of politicians and leaders who spread false propaganda.

Chikkamagalur's N.R. Pura Basava Kendra Seer Basavayogi Prabhu Swamiji released the Lingayat Mahasabha's identity card on the occasion.

Hosamutt Seer Chidananda Swamiji graced the occasion.

Gurumalleshwara Mutt's Jayadevi Tayi, Basava Gnanamandira's Mate Basavanjali, Jagatika Lingayat Mahasabha office-bearers Mahadevappa, Guruprasad, Guruswamy and others were present.

Veerashaiva Lingayat Jagruti Vedike members stage demonstration

Even as the District Office of Jagatika Lingayat Mahasabha was inaugurated, members of Veerashaiva Lingayat Jagruti Vedike staged a demonstration opposing the move.

The Jagruti Vedike members tried to enter Hosamutt premises, but were prevented by the Police at the gate itself. The Vedike members then raised slogans opposing the inauguration of the unit. Soon, Jagatika Lingayat Mahasabha members too raised slogans demanding separate religion status for Lingayats, when tension and confusion prevailed at the venue for sometime. The Police then held more than 12 members of Veerashaiva-Lingayat Jagruti Vedike and brought them to CAR Grounds from where they were let off after sometime.

Reacting to the protest, Ravandur Murugha Mutt Seer Mokshapathi Swamiji said that there will always be opposition wherever a good work is launched.

Maintaining that everyone cannot be changed, the Seer claimed that Lingayat Dharma was a casteless society and anyone willing to adhere to the principles of Basavanna are welcome to join.

'Folklore portrays lifestyle of people'

MLA S.A. Ramdas beating the drum to inaugurate Rangahejje Cultural Trust and Janapada Nruthyotsava at Vanaranga in Rangayana premises here recently as Theatre artist Mime Ramesh, Trust members and others look on.

Mysuru, Sept.25 (MK&US)- Marking the launch of Rangahejje Cultural Trust and Janapada Nruthyotsava, an event was organised at Vanaranga in Rangayana premises.

Inaugurating the programme MLA S.A. Ramdas opined that Folklore was not just a dance but portrayed the lifestyle of people and added that food habits and medicinal practices were also parts of folklore. He pointed out that folklore should not be confined to villages and tribals but should spread everywhere.

Continuing, Ramdas contended that folk programmes should be organised all through the year and not during Dasara only. He said that such programmes were essential as people were getting obsessed with English language. He sought good research work on folk literature and added that folk medicine and folk science should get right recognition. He observed that folk science throws light on movement of planets, satellite and formation of eclipses. He advised the youth not to fall prey for narcotics.

Speaking on the occasion former MLA S. Balaraj opined that folklore was like 'Mother root' and Sugama Sangeetha, classical music and dance were the offshoots. He sought a good platform for folk artistes.

Theatre Artiste Mime Ramesh, Corporator B.V. Manjunath, Cardiac Surgeon Dr. J. Veena, Trust President M. Chinnaswamy, Actor Jayaprakash and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Iatrogenic

Pronunciation: iat-ro-gen-ic
Meaning: Induced inadvertently by a physician or surgeon or by medical treatment or diagnostic procedures.
Origin: In the 21st century, patients with throat infections are no longer being bled to death by misguided doctors, like the unfortunate George Washington. But iatrogenic injury and death still remain serious risks. Because of a doctor's bad handwriting, a patient may be given the wrong powerful drug. The sheer number of drugs on the market has led to dangerous drug interactions, which often occur when one doctor doesn't know what another is doing. Too many patients go to the hospital for some common treatment and pick up an antibiotic-resistant staph infection. And let's not even think about those unlucky patients who wake up to find that the surgeon has removed the wrong foot.
Example: In a few cases, external trauma to the nose may also be iatrogenic, or caused by medical care.

THE ODD WORD

Attic salt

Refined, incisive wit.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

X marks the spot

Meaning: When someone finds something looking for, this is the exact spot, mark something with X on target.

Origin: What is said upon finding your target has been marked out derived from an X on pirate treasure maps. The phrase was put into common usage by the British army, who performed executions by marking a piece of paper with a black x and positioning it on the heart of someone sentenced to death.
Example: I pointed to the location on the map and told the recruits "x marks the spot".

QUOTE BOX

Whenever a doctor cannot do good, he must be kept from doing harm.

Special prayers at Tibetan Monastery for flood victims

Buddhist Monks offering special prayers to Medicine Buddha at Sera Mey Monastery in Bylakuppe.

Bylakuppe, Sept.25 (Rajesh)- Seven-day special mass prayers are being conducted by Buddhist Monks of Tibetan Settlement at Sera Mey Monastery here, for the well-being of the people of the flood-hit Kodagu in the State and neighbouring State of Kerala.

The special prayers are being conducted from Sept.22 and will continue up to Oct.1.

The Sera Mey Monastery is being illuminated on all the 10 days. The prayer hall is being decorated with special lights. The tables in the hall are arranged with apples, biscuits and others. Huge lamps are being lit during prayers and the whole area reverberates with chanting of prayers.

The Monks offer prayers to the statue of 'Medicine Buddha,' who is believed to cure those suffering from health issues. The Tibetans, at the rehabilitation centres, have not limited themselves to prayers, but have also visited the flood-affected areas and have distributed clothes, medicines and food worth around Rs.6 lakh.

> "Sera Mey Monastery has helped those affected from the natural calamity and 2,000 Buddhist Monks, including 10 years to 70 years old, are praying for the well-being of the victims."
> — Geshe Tashi Tsering of the Monastery

> "In view of providing financial aid to the flood victims, already Rs.13 lakh has been collected from Tibetan settlements in Kullu, Manali, Dharamshala and other places. As Tibetans believe that praying Medicine Buddha for seven days will bring good fortune, special prayers are being conducted at Sera Mey Monastery."
